Description

In the mapping document, many fields are labelled as "migrate to hidden field". For example, almost the entire question 2.5.1.2. Activities, inputs and costs for agronomic measures: Initial investment

Is this reasonable?

- If we create a large (hidden) bucket, it will be rather difficult to extract this information later on.
- We will most probably never use this information again.
- In the unlikely case we do need some of this information, we could still access the old QT database and use the information directly from there.
